

Spring Blog Festival 2015

The last Saturday, 21 March, I had the opportunity to enjoy my first conference online with people around the world. This was a really great experience, because I had the opportunity to listen different teachers, experiences and methodologies to use in my future classrooms.

I saw two conferences in the morning, because in the evening it was impossible for me.

I had the fortune to see two good conferences with Mrs Karen Blumberg from United States and Mrs María Jesus García from Spain.

I'm going to try to do a brief summary about these two conferences with the most important points and my personal opinion.

In the first conference Karen Blumberg talked about the different options that you have if you want to have a social web. For instance, she talked about Facebook, Twitter, LinkedIn, Google+, About.me. She explained the most important characteristics and the principal uses that these pages have.

She explained the importance of the background and she gave us some advices such as to have a personal photograph in your profile and to have a simple and clear background. Also, she talked about having photograph of children, it can be dangerous and we have to be careful with this topic.

Related with to be careful with some pictures, she talks about the privacy in the profiles and the privacy with children.

Moreover, she explained us what "the eggs" are. I didn't know them and this information was really useful. Besides she showed us the different features groups.

Finally, we were talking about the Edcamp and to do some Edcamp here, in Spain, because there is any yet.

It was really interesting conference and I'm very glad to have had the opportunity to see it.

Regarding with the second conference, it was very entertaining. The teacher M<sup>o</sup> Jesús García did a brief summary about the planning of our subject in the university.

She was talking and explaining the different missions that we have to do in this four-month period.

She started with our first mission "Teachers, We've Had a Problem" she explained it and uploaded the story that we have in the campus.

She was explaining all our missions with some details.

Moreover, she talked about the importance of sharing. Teachers have to share our information; this is the only way if we want to improve.

She talked about licenses and intoxication. Some people in the chat didn't know what this word means, so this point was very interesting for the vast majority of us.

Besides, she explained was skeleton is and what we have to do with our skeletons. And finally she talked about the InfoGrafias, what it is and our mission with it.

The conference was a brief summary of the missions, which we are making in the university. She was very active with the chat, answering some questions that people asked by chat.

It was an interesting experience and I will repeat it without doubts
